“ My dad was a good, hardworking, honest man, who did all he could to take care of his family. I remember he used to always bring me home art supplies, whether it be from the store or some random ones that he had found at work, and take me to classes at Michael’s every week when I was a kid. We used to spend time outdoors a lot, he even taught us how to fish at Wilderness park too. He’d always make us all laugh, I think I got some of my sense of humor from him. It’s so hard to not think of the losses we’ve gained from this tragedy, but I choose to look back on the good times that we had instead. He may not be on this earth anymore, but his memory lives on through all of us. We miss you, Dad.
