This is my younger brother by one year. He was a gentle giant as we grew up. He exhibited those same qualities to his family. He truly was a great Dad and Granddad. Those children miss him dearly. My brother knew I loved him because we exchanged that phrase often before he died. Life is too short to hold grudges so we let them go and truly spoke our hearts to each other. Rest well my brother. I'll see you on the getting up day when the trumpet sounds.
