

Valarie Alford Whigham

December 14, 1949 - May 25, 2021

Dear Family,

I, Valarie Alford Whigham, age 71, of Los Angeles, CA, have passed and joined my/our beloved one Virgie Lee Chapelle (my mother) who I truly loved. Jehovah has called upon me to be laid to rest. I have closed this chapter, for my family to begin writing new pages of their future together as a family. I can only pray that legacies are created among the family. Please open your hearts and minds to a new life that you all can share together. I love and will miss you all.

I have been a mother, grandmother, great grandmother, sister, aunt, cousin, friend, and wife.

I leave behind my only son Johnny Randle, my granddaughters Breanna and Sophia Randle, and great granddaughter Jordyn Davis. My daughters Dianne Randle, my granddaughters Nicole and Desha, two great granddaughters Victoria and Madisyn and my great grandson Racer. My daughter Joeval Wright, three granddaughters (or beloved one) Yvette Rieus, her son/ my great grandson Jayden Rieux, Jasmine Wright, her daughter Emoneee Henderson, my great granddaughter Brimnesha Berry, her daughter Naomi Escobar my great granddaughter, her two sons Micah and Noah Escobar, my great grandsons. My baby girl Tonia Randle, her daughters Kenosha Randle and Kajilah Torres my granddaughters, and her son/my first born grandson Antonio Torres. My brother (our beloved one) Lynell (who I truly loved) and his daughter/ my niece Eshana Star. My brothers Steven and Dennis. My only sister Denice, her two sons/my nephews Wayne Jr. and Marquis (and his children), her daughter/my niece Lakeisha. Also, a lot of friends and family accumulated over the years.

I love you all and will see you again...
